THREE EUROPEANS MURDERED BY GERMAN BUCCANEERS

ITALIAN AIR MADA STARTS FOR CHICAGO

Planes On Ambitious Atlantic Flight.

GENERAL BALBO LEADS VETERAN PILOTS.

Orbetello, Yesterday.
Italian Atlantic flight took off here to-day at 5.35 a.m. crossing the Alps and will fly over Germany en to Amsterdam where they refuel before continuing their to Ireland.—Reuter.

Flying Boat Capsizes.

ONE OF CREW MISSING.

Amsterdam, Later.
One of the Italian flying boats capsized in landing here yesterday.
Three of the occupants were seriously injured and one is missing.
Motor boats are at present searching for the missing man.
Reuter.
Twenty seaplanes are attempting the most ambitious large-scale flight ever undertaken to Chicago, by way sub-polar regions and return.
Favourable weather delayed start for many days, the take-being postponed twice.
The armada was ready to leave June 24 but reports of bad weather in the Alps caused the postponement, the second postponement being last Sunday, when General Balbo, Italian War minister, decided to wait another day.
The first leg of the 6,100-mile trip will be to Amsterdam.
The plane may go only to Iceland to take the place of any ships sunk out.

S. TO MODERATE FLUCTUATIONS

Bankers Confer With Mr. Woodin.

TEMPORARY ACTION PLANNED

New York, Yesterday.
Following an important conference at the home of the United States Treasury Secretary, Mr. William H. Woodin, attended by Messrs. Acheson, Baruch and Burgess of the Federal Reserve Bank and Mr.
Fred I. Kent, Foreign Exchange Dictator, a belief prevails that a plan has been evolved to moderate, temporarily, the fluctuations in currencies, not by stabilization but through the concerted action of the New York Federal Reserve Bank and foreign central banks.
One official stated that it is "not absolutely necessary" to provide a special fund to prevent further gyrations of currencies.—Reuter.

Banks Should Check Speculation.

London, Yesterday.
The proposed gold bloc declaration is also understood to include general expression of opinion that concerted action by the central banks should be encouraged in order to check speculation on exchange markets.—Reuter.

MR. T. V. SOONG RECEIVED BY H.M. THE KING.

Sino-Soviet Discussion Follows
Palace Visit.

His Majesty the King to-day received Mr. T. V. Soong, Chinese Finance Minister, and leader of the Chinese delegation to the World Economic Conference.
Mr. Soong later interviewed M.
Litvinoff, Soviet Foreign Commissioner.

ALL SEEDS PLAYERS WIN AT WIMBLEDON

Betty Nuthall Loses
To Miss Scriven.

SATOH AND NUNOI IN BRILLIANT MOOD.

Miss Hardwicke Impresses.

London, Yesterday.

All attendance records were shattered yesterday at Wimbledon when a huge crowd witnessed the closing stages of the singles events.
Their Majesties the King and Queen were present and were given a great ovation on their arrival.
Ellsworth Vines, Jack Crawford and Bunny Austin, the seeded men players, all triumphed in straight sets, and the day's play provided no outstanding surprises.

Margaret Scriven eliminated Betty Nuthall in the Women's Singles, and Dorothy Round and Mme. Mathieu, two other seeded players, won their way into the quarter finals by straight sets victories.

Results as cable by Reuter:
Men's Singles—Fourth Round.
Jack Crawford (Australia) beat
A. Steadman (New Zealand) 6-1, 6-4, 6-2.

Ellsworth Vines (U.S.A.) beat
Daniel Penn (Germany) 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Bunny Austin (Britain) beat
P. D. B. Spence (S. Africa) 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

Women's Singles—Fourth Round.
Mme. Mathieu (France) beat (unknown) 6-4, 6-0.

Dorothy Round (Britain) beat
Miss Edwards (Britain) 6-4, 6-2.

Fraulein Krahwinkel (Germany)
beat Miss King (Britain) 6-2, 7-5.

Margaret Scriven (Britain) beat
Betty Nuthall (Britain) 8-6, 6-0, 6-4.

Men's Doubles—Third Round.
Von Cramm and D. Nourine (Germany) beat Del Bono and Sertorio (Italy) 1-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

N. Farquharson and J. V. Kirby
(S. Africa) beat T. Aoki and Tuckett 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

R. Nunoi and J. Satoh (Japan) beat Condon and C. J. Robbins (S.
Africa) 6-1, 5-7, 6-1, 6-2.

Mixed Doubles—Second Round.
H. Itoh and Miss Hardwicke beat
Williams and Miss Trentham 6-4, 6-4.

TAJUDDIN WINS
LONDON CUP.

Favourite's Triumph
By Three Lengths.

London, Yesterday.

Tajuddin, the favourite, won the London Cup to-day when he beat Barrage by three lengths in a field of thirteen starters.

Grey Wonder was third, half a length behind Barrage.

The betting was 5-2 Tajuddin, 20-1 Barrage, and 10-1 Grey Wonder.—Reuter.

NO STABILISATION BY AMERICA BUT SPECULATORS MAY BE CHECKED

WORLD ANXIOUSLY AWAITS
ROOSEVELT'S VERDICT

LONDON, YESTERDAY.
THE WORLD IS ANXIOUSLY AWAITING PRESIDENT
ROOSEVELT'S VERDICT UPON THE CURRENCY FORMULA
IN THE KNOWLEDGE THAT THE FUTURE OF THE WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE, AND POSSIBLY THE FUTURE OF EUROPEAN STABILITY IS DEPENDENT ON HIS DECISION.

It should be noted that the proposed declaration is not concerned with stabilisation but with the prevention of speculation, and apparently it is this offer of an international drive against speculators that has induced gold countries to modify their demand for immediate stabilisation, to which America and Britain are adamantly opposed.

Indications are, that President Roosevelt will be willing for the Federal Reserve Bank to make efforts to check speculation by operating the foreign exchange market so as to obviate violent fluctuations in the dollar rate.

As Professor Raymond Moley, United States Assistant Secretary of State, has approved the compromising formula now before the President, recommending, inter alia, that central banks use their resources to prevent such fluctuations, President Roosevelt's approval is confidently expected to-day.

If the declaration is accepted, it should be possible for the various Governments to eventually decide upon stabilisation over a period which must remain at present undefined.

The American delegation did not participate in yesterday's negotiations, which is indicative of the United States attitude that the issue is outside the jurisdiction of the delegation.—Reuter.

Reply Anxiously Awaited.
SYMPATHY WITH GOLD COUNTRIES?

London, Yesterday.
Delegates at the World Economic Conference are possessing their souls in patience pending the receipt of President Roosevelt's keenly awaited reply on the formula for the solution to the currency problem sent to him yesterday.
This is now expected late this afternoon, when Mr. Ramsey Macdonald will probably summons a meeting of the representatives of gold countries and others concerned, to consider its tenor.

American delegation circles in London are under the impression that the President will revise the formula and give less emphasis to gold and that he will indicate sympathy with gold countries rather than make any active pronouncement on the gold standard.

Dollar Not Down Far Enough.

THE TIMES CORRESPONDENT'S
SUMMING-UP.

New York, Yesterday.
The Times correspondent in New York sums up President Roosevelt's views as follows:
That there have been no gyrations of the dollar.
That the dollar has not yet declined enough to afford a fair stabilisation value.

That the United States stake in the World Economic Conference will be sorely injured by pegging the dollar at the present time.

NO MEETINGS YESTERDAY

Firm Stand By French Cabinet.

NEW SILVER PROPOSALS.

London, Yesterday.
President Roosevelt's reply to the French Government has made their own standpoint clear at a Council of Ministers this morning.

Paris messages state that the Council considered a report from
M. Bonnet, leader of the French delegation, after which it reaffirmed its attitude that nothing can be achieved in the economic sphere at the Conference without currency stabilisation.

The Geological Museum was almost deserted, and no meetings are being held to-day, but some of the delegations have taken the opportunity of explaining their standpoint, the most important of which was the statement made by the Mexican delegation, urging the adoption of silver as complementary money to gold.

French Sympathy For Britain.

"BETWEEN THE DEVIL AND THE DEEP SEA"

The French papers are not unsympathetic towards Britain and recognise that she is "between the devil and the deep sea" over the currency crisis.—Reuter.

SPECULATION IN U.S. DOLLARS.

Rate Firms After Weak Opening.

The expectation of an acceptable reply is not reflected on foreign exchange markets, where business pursued the usual Saturday morning quietness until the last hour, when sudden activity in United States dollars developed.

This activity kept the market open for over half an hour beyond the normal closing time during which dollars were sold heavily.

Dollars in relation to sterling opened at 4.27½ and later weakened to 4.33, but slightly firmed up to close at 4.31½.

All gold currencies were extremely steady.

Official Photograph—"Our Flying Prince" keeps two engagements.—The Prince of Wales stepping from the Victoria Victoria, the latest addition to his fleet of aircraft, on arriving at Henden. H. R. H. had down in her, from Windsor, to Cardiff to hold an investiture, and back to Henden.—(S. & G.)

CANTON-HANKOW RAILWAY

$4,300,000 Loan Approved.

LONG CONSIDERATION BY BOXER FUND BOARD.

Nanking, Yesterday.
After considering the matter for nine months, the Board of the Chinese Bank Boxer Fund has approved the loan of $4,300,000 for the completion of the Canton Hankow Railway. Of this sum, $1,200,000 will be secured by the flotation of bonds.

The delay is due to the Board's carefulness regarding security, which will consist of a surcharge on passengers and freight on all National railway revenues on the Peking-Hankow train ferry, and the section of the Canton-Hankow Railway between Canton and the Kwangtung border.—Reuter.

SIR MILES MAY BE PROMOTED

Ambassador To Turkey Rumoured.

Istanbul, Yesterday.
There is a strong impression in Consular quarters here, that Sir Miles Lampson, British Minister to China will shortly succeed Sir George Clerk as British Ambassador to Turkey.

Sir George Clerk was appointed British Ambassador to Brussels, six weeks ago.

The British Foreign Office to-day declined to make any statement to Reuter.—Reuter.

Rumours of Sir Miles Lampson's appointment as an Ambassador were rife during his absence from China, on leave, recently.

ANGLO-SOVIET RELATIONS.

Further Conversation At Foreign Office.

London, Yesterday.
Further Anglo-Soviet conversation between the Soviet Ambassador to London, M. Malysky and the Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon took place at the Foreign Office at 2.30 p.m. to-day, regarding the British embargo on Soviet goods and the release of the Moscow prisoners, Messrs. Thornton and Macdonald.
Nothing definite has yet emerged.

POSSIBLE PIRACY FRUSTRATED

Captain's Firm Action.

5 FOREIGNERS ARRESTED ON SHIP AT TANGKU.

Dairen, Yesterday.
When the ship "Shangan" was at Tangku yesterday morning, five suspicious looking foreigners boarded the vessel at Tangku yesterday morning, and refused to disembark when ordered.

Although it meant delaying the departure of the vessel, the Captain summoned the Chinese police, who arrested the foreigners and conveyed them to Tientsin.

The story was recounted when the Tientsin Maru arrived here this afternoon.—Reuter.

LIMITING WHEAT EXPORTS

Australia Agrees To Restrictions.

FINAL DECISION FOR FEDERAL CABINET.

Sydney, Yesterday.
It is authoritatively stated that a meeting of the Premiers of the Australian States has agreed to a restriction in wheat exports. The decision will now be considered by the Federal Cabinet.—Reuter.

A wheat agreement between the United States, Australia, the Argentine and Canada, was considered imminent in American circles in London, last week.

Canada, the Argentine and the United States reached an agreement on June 24 and the Australian decision was expected the same night. It is understood that the agreement provides for a reduction in wheat acreage and exports.

CATHOLICS AND POLITICS.

Must Keep Aloof, Hitler Orders.

Berlin, Yesterday.
The offices of all Catholic societies and clubs in Prussia which are regarded by the police as political have been closed, and all documents seized in pursuance with the Hitler Government's policy to keep the Church aloof from politics.
Charitable Catholic organizations are not affected.—Reuter.

STEAMER PIRATED

SKIPPER, MATE, WIFE
BUTCHERED

Ghastly Crime Near Tientsin.

THREE ARRESTED AFTER SHIP RUNS AGROUND.

Pirates Intended To Sell Ship In America.

Dairen, Yesterday.

Five Europeans are stated to have been carried out one of the ghastliest crimes ever perpetrated on the high seas, three Europeans and seven Chinese being brutally murdered, according to reports received here to-day, from the Japanese navy. The ship was the "Shangan", a steamer of 2,000 tons, which was en route from Shanghai to Tientsin.

The outrage occurred in the steamer "Shangan", formerly the S.S. Opland, while on the journey from Tangku, at the mouth of the Pei Ho River, just below Tientsin, to Shanghai.

The vessel left Tangku on June 26, and shortly before the ship sailed, the five Europeans came on board and forced the captain of the ship to accommodate them.

When the ship was 200 miles from Shanghai, the five Europeans seized control, killing the skipper, Captain Vikman, and his wife and the chief mate, all of whom are Russians, and the seven of the Chinese crew. The bodies were thrown overboard.
The ship's course was changed towards Dairen, where the cannibals intended to take on visions for a 34-day trip to United States.

On arrival in the United States the men hoped to sell the ship for $30,000 and have cargo for $80,000.

Owing to bad navigation, however, the ship ran aground at Hoshigaura. The suspicious of the police were aroused by the appearance of the ship and the answers to their questions and three of the men who are alleged to have taken part in the outrage were subsequently arrested. The other two, however, are still at large.

The names of the arrested men all of whom are Germans, are:
Captain Tschudi, age 55 years, Schuler, age 26 years,
Bosch, age unknown,
Bosch, age 25 years,
Germans,
Germans, age 32 years, Swiss.

FIRST MATE'S WIFE MURDERED

It was the first mate's wife, Anastasia, of Latvian nationality, who was killed (that the captain's wife, as was reported earlier).
The first mate, Vikman, was married August 18, 1928, to a woman who was the wife of Shanghai. The ship was home to the Vikman was an ex-officer in the Imperial Russian Navy. He was unmarried and was aged forty.

Millions of Gallons maturing—
Older and better than ever

Never was your White Horse as good or as old as it is to-day. Years ago, exceptionally heavy stocks of the finest whiskies were laid down to anticipate sales which the quality would justify. These stocks are now fully matured. The result is that WHITE HORSE is now older and better than ever before, excellent as it was in 1932 and preceding years. This advance in quality and age will be maintained. White Horse is now the equivalent of a fine liquor.

"STYLE," as applied to the Packard, has always meant something more. Associated with it, logically and distinctively, is the other important word, "enduring"—a Packard characteristic for a third of a century.

So gradually and correctly has Packard style evolved—like the slow unfolding of a beautiful flower—it has never been at the mercy of that capricious mood which too often alienates to-morrow's style from that of to-day.

SUNDAY CONCERTS TO RECOMMENCE.

Peninsula Hotel Entertainment.

FIRST 1933 CONCERT TO-DAY

An innovation that last year attracted hundreds of people to the spacious and comfortable Lounge of the Peninsula Hotel, and which afforded congenial entertainment on Sunday evenings, is to be re-introduced to-night with an opening Symphonic Concert.

The programme for the occasion, comprising an interesting selection of variable instrumental music by popular composers, will be rendered by the massed bands of The Hong Kong and Shanghai Hotels, Ltd., under the conductorship of Mr. A. Gellman, the accomplished band leader.

There will be no fee for admission, but a minimum charge of $1.00 will be made for refreshments. The concert will commence at 8.45 p.m., prompt, and early attendance is suggested for preferential seating and accommodation.

FOREIGN WORKERS LEAVE FRANCE

400,000 Quit Country In Six Months.

LABOUR RESTRICTIONS IN OPERATION

Paris. No less than 400,000 foreign workers left France for their native countries during the last six months through the recent measures restricting foreign labour here.

The Minister of labour has announced, however, that new workers' cards, hitherto refused in practically all cases, will be granted to Jewish immigrants who can establish the fact that they are political refugees.

The laws restricting foreign labour, as well as the enforcement of the 8 hours' work a day law, have been applied with increasing severity in recent months. Banks, insurance and brokers houses, the building trades, the dockyards, dressmakers and the ceramic trades are examples of those who have been invited by the Ministry of Labour to express their views on the functioning of the Eight Hours Law with the object, apparently, of substituting French for foreign labour wherever possible.

The most drastic decree has been promulgated affecting the film industry where a large proportion of actors and technical experts are foreign. Foreign Technical experts must henceforth not exceed 50 per cent of the total technical staff and must be reduced to 25 per cent within 18 months. Foreign actors must not exceed 10 per cent of the cast.

"As far as the employment of foreign sound engineers, cameramen, etc., is concerned," a leading French film expert said, "this will be a blow to the French industry and help our competitors abroad who are not so restricted. We have not enough experts training in this kind of work to maintain the high technical standard which we have achieved at present with foreign labour."—Reuter.

AUSTRALIANS SAIL ON NANKIN.

Banker Impressed With Hong Kong.

MR. LATHAM'S INTERVIEW.

Among the passengers who sailed on the Nankin yesterday for Australia were, Sir Stephen and Lady Morell, of Melbourne, accompanied by their daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. B. Latham, of Sydney. Sir Stephen, who was formerly Lord Mayor of Melbourne, is returning to Australia after a health trip through the Far East.

Mr. B. Latham is a brother of the Attorney General and Minister for External Affairs for the Commonwealth Cabinet.

A prominent banker of Sydney, Mr. Latham is attached to the Note Issue Department of the Commonwealth Bank of Australia. In an interview with a representative of the Sunday Herald, Mr. Latham said that this was his first visit to the East. He was very impressed with all that he had seen in the East, especially the city of Hong Kong.

He also noted with satisfaction the popularity of Australian products and manufactured goods in Hong Kong and North China. Mr. Latham remarked that Australia was recovering after a disastrous slump and that things were improving, with good prospects for the future.

WOLF IS FINEST POLICE DOG.

Wins First Prize In German Show.

Belgrade.

The best police dog is Europe, which has already won over 200 prizes, is not a dog at all. It is a wolf, which was caught as a cub in the Bosnian woods six years ago.

Last year in Germany it now the first prize in an International Police Dog Show, not making a single mistake in all the tests for skill, training and accuracy.

The wolf is in constant demand to clear up mysteries for the Austrian police and is taken to all parts of the country to track down criminals. It is shown as a model in training schools for police dogs. The wolf was captured by a police clerk from Vienna when he was not hunting. He took it back to Vienna and brought it up with his own police dogs.—Reuter.

PYJAMA FAD HOLDS LEAD

Paris. WORTH maintains that in spite of all propaganda to the contrary, pyjama are not dead. He adds, however, that "many women seem to prefer the wrap-around beach dress which we originated two years ago. We indicated last year a tendency to shorten the length of pyjama trousers, and this year we have accentuated this idea, which we think a good one, and you will notice that most of our pyjama are short. That is to say, they stop above the ankle."

This question, of course, comes up every season, and "Ifs the pyjama passed into limbo?" fits from mouth to mouth with the inevitable answers of both "Yes," and "No." Some houses may call them by another name, but it remains the same robe, basically, so there you are!

Party Frocks For Young People

Coiffure Becomes More Girlish.

PARTY frocks are being fashioned of organdie, eyelet-embroidered muslins, mousselines and georgette. Empire tops vie with yokes cut in points on to which the skirt is attached with rows of minute shirrings. Less formal models are made of shantung, silk plique and crepe de chine, all easily laundered.

This reversion to the feminine in little folk's clothes is also expressed in their hats. Berets represent the practical side of the question, but jaunty breton sailors, vanessa or Italian straw cloches, worn at a certain angle, are the latest expression here, with a few draped beret shapes in the same fabric as the coat or suit.

The boyish bob has also disappeared, to make place for softer, more girlish coiffure. The hair is worn a little longer parted on one side or in the middle and held in place by one or two simple slides.

Paris Favours Slim Sleeves

Skirt Hems Must Cover Calves.

Paris. NOW the fashion hurricane is over and the style sea has calmed down it is time to look out over the quiet waters and see just what has floated to the top as the cream of the crop, so to speak.

Sleeves have had a pretty tough time of it, being pulled into every conceivable size and shape until now they have come up out of the freccis short and simple. There still is a lot of that wide shoulder effect being sought after but it is softened more and more.

Skirt hems should be let out until they cover the calf of the leg. Yes, and this goes for morning as well as afternoon, and sport outfits find this length smarter than the shorter types of other seasons.

EMPHASIS ON GOOD FEATURES

Should Be Made Central Point Of Dressing.

ALMOST every woman has certain good features that ought to be emphasised and made the central point of her dressing.

It may be an unusually clear complexion, rare among women of her age. By the choice of colours, she may easily call attention to her superb colouring.

It may be the shade of her hair that is interesting. By wearing costumes of the same tone, or of a sharply contrasting tone, she may give herself a real personality.

Variety Treatment In Wool And Silk

Specially Favours Youth This Summer.

SWAGGER COATS AND RODEO SHIRTS

VARIETY in treatment of cotton, linen, silks, and wools all shows that the younger people are to be specially favoured this summer.

The smart little short or "swagger" three-quarter length coats in wool and flannels, which have a lining to match the blouse and jabots, and the "Rodeo" shirts in plaids and checks, are delightful aspects of current fashions. The fabric can line a loose coat to

NEW HATS LEAD THE WAY

To Definite Styles in Dressing.

DOUBLE SAILOR SHAPE APPEARS

THE new hats have really led the way to a more detailed and definite style of dressing in general. The smartness of the new-dented high-crowned white crepe or straw hat, with its wreath of flowers or ribbon, and its tip-titled piquant little brim, would look absurd with any of the mediocre suits or the ordinary two-pieces such as might have contented us two years ago.

The wide shoulder-line had to come with the curious taller aspect in hats. Sailors, in all forms, are revised, just as are the sporting caps and Homburgs of wider brim. There are plenty of shallow crowns, but the trimming is taken higher up at the back, or at the side.

Folded turbans are helpful to older women, as is the smart veil. The tricorne is seen again in flowers (feathery toques have given place to a certain extent to flowers and fabric circ). Braid is worn, and much ribbon.

One of the prettiest models of the season is a sort of double-sailor girlish shape, in white straw-circ. The top is soft, like a tam-crown, with a stiff brim, and round the crown is a wreath of black-and-white cotton marguerites.

White Organdi And Black

Strengthens Ethereal Victorian Revival.

LIME GREEN AND BLACK EFFECTIVE

WHITE organdi gains much dignity by its association with any black fabric. Alone, or even with charmingly pretty colours, organdi would not last as a mode. It is the boldness of black that strengthens this ethereal Victorian revival.

Pink and black is another colour scheme that has much charm. For summer it is so much safer than turquoise.

Another lovely shade to go with black is almond or lime green. The latter is a little difficult, and must be used carefully, with more green than black prevailing. A smart little wool coat and skirt of lime green had a black and white organdi chemise and a shoulder-cape of the same. The sailor hat of shiny green straw was veiled with spotted black net frills; green and black kid shoes and gloves were very effective.

COMPLETE RECORD OF LEAGUE TENNIS PARTNERSHIPS TO DATE

MRS. LOCKNER, heads the Mixed Doubles Tennis League partnerships with Lolly Goldman, with whom she won the Colony title in 1931.

BILLIARDS CHAMPION EXTENDED

Wood Nearly Surprises Jarman.

SECOND ROUND OF GARRISON CHAMPIONSHIP.

Led by 116 to 55 C/Sgt. Jarman, holder of the Garrison Billiards title, had a narrow escape in his Second Round match with Sgt. Wood. Only a last-minute recovery gave him a narrow win by 42 points.

Sgt. James, Pte. Winfield, Spr. Whittaker, Pte. Walters and L/Cpl. Herriott were other Second Round winners.

Jarman, who was runner-up in the Colony Championship, played very badly in the early stages of his game against Wood and on several occasions was over 50 points in arrears.

The latter played well, scoring very consistently. It was only after the scores had read 178-177 in favour of Wood, that Jarman finally recovered to make a series of small breaks to run out the winner by 42 points.

Jarman recorded breaks of 27 and 21 while Wood scored a 22 and a 20.

Had Wood kept up his earlier form, he would have dethroned the champion.

Walters defeated Pte. Abbot by 83 points. The winner made the only break of over 20, registering a 23. A very slow game was seen when Whittaker beat Spr. Tucker by the narrow margin of 7 points.

Two Hours For 250.

Very little separated the players throughout a game, which took a little over two hours to complete. Herriott passed into the Third round at the expense of Pte. Pye, who was beaten by only 9 points.

The game was very closely contested throughout, and it was only the consistency of Herriott that gave him the victory. The winner made a break of 24 while Pye chalked up a 23.

James and Green were very evenly matched over the first 100 points, but play was not of a high standard. Green recorded a useful 30 break to win by the narrow margin of 23 points.

Good billiards featured the game between Kirkham and Winfield.

Kirkham, who eliminated L/Cpl. Ellis in the previous round, chalked up 31 and 21 breaks, but he was beaten by 18 points. Winfield had breaks of 19 (twice), 22 and 27 (unfashioned).

The Results.

The results were as follows:
Sgt. James (Lines) beat Sgt. Green (Lines) 250 to 227.
Pte. Winfield (Lines) beat Pte. Kirkham (R.A.M.C.) 250 to 232.
Spr. Whittaker (R.E.) beat Spr. Tucker (R.E.) 250 to 243.
Pte. Walters (S.W.B.) beat Pte. Abbot (Lines) 250 to 167.
L/Cpl. Herriott (Lines) beat Pte. Pye (Lines) 250 to 241.
C/Sgt. Jarman (S.W.B.) beat Sgt. Wood (R.A.) 250 to 208.

SIX-A-SIDE TOURNAY.

The Second Round match between "A" Coy, Lincoln and "A" Coy, Borderers, in the Six-A-Side Garrison Challenge Cup has been arranged for next Saturday evening at the Soldiers' Club at 6 p.m.

R. A. Bates, the energetic Y.M.C.A. hockey secretary, left for England on Home leave yesterday by the Mantua.

Colony Swimming Championships

Y.M.C.A. POOL PROBABLE VENUE

Bright Prospects For Ladies' Team Race.

INTERPORT CONTEST WITH CANTON AND THE V.R.C. INNOVATION.

(By J. NESMAN).

One of the most important questions now confronting the Council of the Hong Kong International Amateur Swimming Association is the holding of the Colony Championships.

Although these do not take place until the end of the swimming season, somewhere round the end of August or the beginning of September, the importance of the item makes it necessary for early discussion as to where and when they are to be decided.

At a recent meeting of the Council various proposals on this subject were heard and discussed, and it was then decided that a Sub-Committee should be elected to deal with the matter.

Of the many proposals forthcoming, the majority were in favour of selecting a swimming pool. This would discount the danger of inclement weather.

This is a very good idea. It would allow for standard records to be kept each year. If the championships were decided at one of the affiliated Clubs at North Point, choppy seas and waves from passing steamers, together with the prevailing currents would affect the times for the various distances.

Another handicap which swimmers suffer from when competing in the open sea is the wooden turning boards, which are inclined to sag backwards as one pushes off. They are not nearly as useful as the brick wall of a swimming pool.

V.R.C. Team For 1934 Olympiad.

ANOTHER item of considerable interest to swimming enthusiasts in the Colony, is the proposal of the Victoria Recreation Club to send a team of eight men and a coach to the Eastern Olympiad.

It was originally proposed that they should take two divers with them, but the idea has since been dispensed with.

L. Roza - Pereira, the Colony swimming champion and one of the finest swimmers in South China, will be one of the team, while other certainities are E. da Roza, S. V. Gittins, F. A. Ambrose, and H. M. Remedios.

This is, I think, the first time that any Club in South China has attempted anything in this line, and I think that it should do much to promote swimming interest in the Colony and Canton.

Hong Kong To Meet Canton Assn.

Another interesting item in the Hong Kong swimming world is an interport against the Canton Amateur Athletic Federation and the Hong Kong International Amateur Swimming Association.

The arrangements for this are now in hand and I understand that this event will probably take place at the end of the swimming season, prior to the local Championships.

Owing to the heavy rain yesterday and on preceding days the Lawn Bowls League matches down for decision yesterday were abandoned.

MAMAK LEAGUE MEETING ON JULY 16

Willing To Affiliate With Association.

QUESTION OF MAMAK SHIELD

At the Executive Committee Meeting of the Mamak Hockey League held in the Post Office Building on Friday night it was decided to hold the annual general meeting on July 15.

At this meeting it would be decided whether the third tournament would be staged this season, and if so to draw up the necessary fixtures.

The Mamak Committee are prepared to affiliate with the proposed Hong Kong Hockey Association, and, with this in view, the Committee have written to the English Hockey Association asking for permission to organise the Mamak League for a trophy. The ruling body at Home are not in favour of affiliated clubs competing in any League in which prizes are to be gained.

A Committee meeting of the proposed Hockey Association will be held in the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow evening at 5.30 p.m.

In the 1931-2 season Mr. Mamak, proprietor of the Mamak Sports Company, presented a shield for league competition. The Radio Sports Club won it in that season. Last season the league was again organised, but without a trophy, owing to the objection raised by the Army and the Navy. The Radio again won the trophy, but had to be content with only the honour of winning the League. The trophy is now in the hands of the Mamak officials.

Those present at the meeting on Friday were, O. England White (Chairman), A. E. P. Guest (Hon. Secretary), J. Barlow (Asst. Hon. Secretary), J. Barlow (Asst. Hon. Secretary), Capt. Vaughan, F. V. Wong and R. C. Reed.

WOMEN'S WORLD GAMES.

250 Entrants From 25 Nations.

The biggest gathering of women athletes ever known is to take place in London in the August of next year, when the British Empire Games are to be held, as well as the Women's World Games.

Events for women are to be included in the Empire Games, and representatives from every part of the Empire are expected. When the first British Empire Games were held at Hamilton, Canada, in 1930, no women competed.

The World Games will attract 250 women athletes from 25 different countries.—Reuter.

The first yachting race to be held in Japan will take place on July 30 between Tokyo and Yokohama, a distance of some 30 miles, under the auspices of the "Fiji Shimpo," an influential Tokyo vernacular paper.—Rengo.

Paris, May 30.—By defeating the youthful Australians, McGrath and Quist by 6-2; 6-4; 2-6; 7-5; Great Britain's Davis Cup Pair, Perry and Hughes, recorded the first British victory in the men's doubles final of the French Lawn Tennis Championship since 1899.

TSUI WAI PUI AND HO KA LAU ON TOP

U.S.R.C. PAIRS TRIUMPH IN "B" DIVISION

FILIPINOS' SUCCESS

RAIN has greatly impeded the progress of the Lawn Tennis League during the past month, as many as 38 matches, representative of nine blocks of matches, being outstanding.

The spirited challenge of South China "A" in the premier league has been the outstanding feature of the season to date, though their win over the Indian R.C. last year's runners-up, has greatly facilitated the progress of the Chinese R.C. "A", the holders.

The United Services are making a bold bid for the "double"—in the "B" and Mixed Doubles—and it is more than probable that they will achieve their ambition. The "C" Division is the most open of the four, and with the K.C.C. and the Army offering a stern challenge the Chinese R.C. will be hard pressed to retain their title.

The following is a complete record of partnerships in the four divisions to date:

SURPRISING HOME CRICKET RESULTS

Yorkshire And Surrey Defeated.

FREEMAN'S 100 WICKETS AND WOOLLEY'S 198

London, Yesterday.

The County Cricket Championship is now becoming very interesting. Yesterday Yorkshire, who had enjoyed clean cut triumphs in eleven of their thirteen matches, lost their unbeaten record on their own ground when Sussex, the southern favourites, inflicted a smashing 10 wickets defeat. The Tykes, however, have still a lead of 35 points.

Surrey suffered their first defeat when they visited Edgbaston and found Santall, Mayer and Brown in splendid form, and Leicester for the first time were not led on first innings, though Glamorgan responded with 443 to the visitors' total of 464 for 6.

Somerset, in spite of a characteristic 198 by Frank Woolley, England's most graceful batsman, just got home by 24 runs against Kent, who suffered their seventh defeat. Wellard, the visitors' fast bowler, was in deadly form, claiming 7 for 59 to dismiss Kent for 105.

Titch Freeman's bag of 7 for 61 in this match gave him the distinction of being the first player to secure 100 wickets this season. Last year he achieved the feat on June 17. In the last five seasons he has taken 1,375 wickets for 23,456 runs—an average of 17.05.

Freeman's Record. Freeman has taken 200 or more wickets in a season on five occasions which is a record. Last year he took 253 at a cost of 16.39 runs per wicket. His best season was in 1923 when he took 304 at a cost of 18.05.

Middlesex checked the Essex revival when, after being led on the first innings, they won at Lord's by the narrow margin of two wickets. Nichols, the Essex fast bowler, secured 11 for 148 in the match—the best bowling feat of the day. Gloucester, who had secured only 60 out of a possible 190, points, surprised Arthur Carr at Trent Bridge when they secured first innings points. The former England skipper declared twice in an effort to force a victory, but Gloucester were quite content with their feat, being 95 behind with all their wickets in hand when stumps were drawn.

Hampshire Again Fail.

Hampshire again disappointed. At Stourbridge they were dismissed by Perks (7 for 66) when 75 in arrears of Worcester's first innings total. In the second innings of the home county Nichols hit 106 not out off the Hampshire bowlers, Kennedy, Boyes, and Herman.

Results as cabled by Reuter:

County Championship. Middlesex beat Essex by 2 wickets at Lord's.

Essex 252 and 186.

Middlesex 237 (Nichols 6 for 73).

203 for 8 (Nichols 5 for 70).

Leicester took first innings points from Glamorgan at Cardiff.

Leicester 454 for 6 dec. (Shipman 145).

192 for 8 wickets.

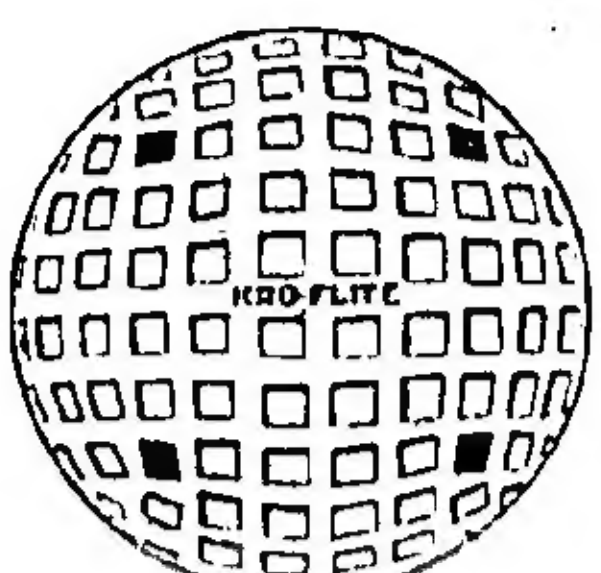

Glamorgan 448 (Duckfield 100).

Somerset beat Kent by 24 runs at Tunbridge Wells.

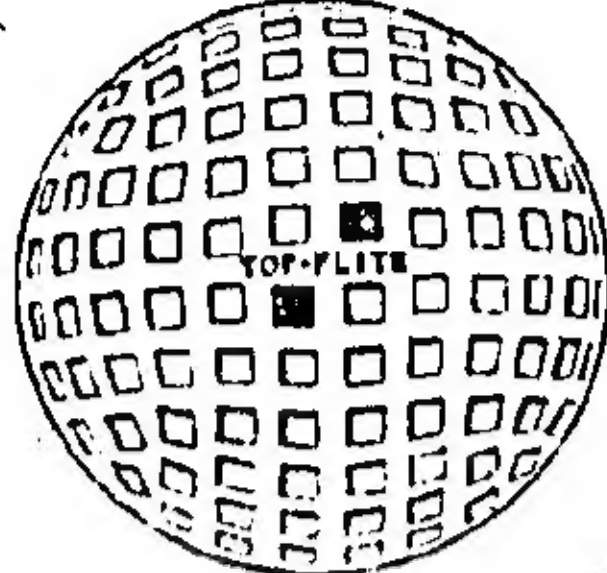

Somerset 215 (Fre

CANTON POLO TEAM DISAPPOINTED

Navy Team Fail
To Appear

Y.M.C.A. WITHDRAW.

The water-polo game between the Royal Navy and the visiting Canton South China Athletic Association team, which should have been played at the South China Bathing Pavilion, North Point, last night, was cancelled owing to the non-arrival of the former team.

Owing to several players not being able to get off on account of business reasons, the European Y.M.C.A. are unable to accept the invitation to play against the visitors to-morrow.

A suggestion that some of the Y.M.C.A.'s second team players should be played instead of the absentees was made, but this is impossible in view of their game against the Chinese Civil Servants' Club to-morrow night at the latter Club's swimming gala.

This evening at 6 p.m. the Hong Kong and Canton South China Athletic Associations will meet at the former's Club at North Point.

The visitors are expected to register a win, but they will be hard pressed throughout.

To-morrow they will probably meet the Victoria Recreation Club, whom they should have met on Tuesday.

The following are the probable teams:—

The Canton visitors are as follow:—

Kam Tze-chung; Ma Yuen-kul and Yeung Hang-wah; Wong Ki-leung; Wong Ki-chau, Chau Ki-chung and Pau Lai.

South China:—
Kwok Mok-hoi; Lee Ping-piu and Yeung Yuen-wai; Wong Suen-mun; Chau Shui-kam, Kwok Chun-hang and Cheung Ming-kwong.

V.R.C.:—
T. L. Knight; J. R. Soares and N.
Delgado; H. M. Remedios (captain);
A. Ambrose, L. Roza-Pereira and C. A.

Swimming Championships

It was suggested by one member of the Council that each of the affiliated Clubs be allowed to include two championship events in their big galas, but this motion was not well supported.

The usual events the 100, 220, 440 and 880 Yards, with possibly the 50 Yards, will comprise the free style events in the men's section, and the 100 Yards Backstroke and 100 Yards Breast-stroke and the diving will complete their programme.

The 50, 100, and possibly a 220 Yards race, will comprise the women's free style section, and the 50 Yards Back-stroke and 100 Yards Breast Stroke will complete their programme.

Ladies' Team Race.

I think that in view of the recent success of a Ladies' Relay race that this item will be included in the Championship.

There is a wealth of swimming talent available from all the affiliated Clubs, and the recent Association gala at the European Y.M.C.A. last Saturday week fully supports this statement.

In the sprint distances, such as the 50 and 100 Yards, Lung Shui-man
Shek Kam-pui (Y. Companions), (C.B.C.), A. G. Donn (Y.M.C.A.), Chan Fook-sing (C.S.C.), H. L.
(C.B.C.) and H. Lango (Y.M.C.A.) Ozorio (University, Tsang Ho-fok will be available.

In the 220 Lange and Campbell (Y.M.C.A.), Shek-Kam-pui (Y. Companions), Leung Shui-man (C.B.C.), Tsang - Ho - fook (C.B.C.), Yeung Yuen-wa (S.C.A.A.),
and Lai Pun-shin and Lai Yun-cheuk (C.S.C.) should offer keen competition.

Kwok Chun-hang (S.C.A.A.), W.
Schreuder and G. Fowler
(Y.M.C.A.), Lai Pun-shin (C.S.C.)
will battle for first place, although Kwok Chun-hang is almost assured of the title.

In the women's events the Misses Yeung Sau-king and Yeung Sau-chun (S.C.A.A.), Miss Chan Yuk-fai (C.B.C.) and Mrs. A. C.
Schreuder, Mrs. P. McMahon, Miss

to date, thirteen matches have been decided.

H. Kow, the winner of the Club's first tournament, and E. C. Fincher, the runner-up, both won their first Round ties by comfortable margins.

The closest game was witnessed when J. S. Beach clashed with J. W. M. Brown in the Second Round. Giving away
25 points Beach just got home by three points.

The Hong Kong Sunday Herald.

HONG KONG, SUNDAY, JULY 2, 1933.

Hong Kong's Policy On Silver.

HONG KONG is interested in the proceedings at the World Economic Conference primarily as a port of distribution which would benefit greatly from any stimulus to world trade which it is hoped will be provided through international agreement reached at the conference. But even more concern is felt regarding the silver proposals which are occupying a prominent place in the London discussions. The reports have been so conflicting, and the various schemes so complicated and diverse that a great deal of confusion exists in connection with the rehabilitation plans. It is impossible to judge whether China — and for purposes of this discussion Hong Kong is included in China — favours the advocacy of rehabilitation of the metal or whether she would prefer silver to remain at its present low and fluctuating level. Bankers, foreign and Chinese, appear, for reasons which are either obscure or else open to question, to oppose any action which would enhance the value of silver. The chief Chinese delegate to London, Mr. T. V. Soong, has made no definite pronouncement, but has indicated that he favours Senator Pittman's proposal now under consideration by the Monetary Commission of the World Conference. It was all the more surprising then to learn on Thursday that the Hong Kong Chamber of Commerce, and the China Association, or rather the committees of these bodies, had cabled to the World Economic Conference a resolution which substantially opposes the rehabilitation proposals. This cable followed a similar cable from the Shanghai Chamber of Commerce and was despatched after an exchange of correspondence between Shanghai and Hong Kong. Although the matter is such a vital one to the whole community no mention of the cable was made publicly and the whole procedure was not divulged until a Reuter cable from London on Thursday announced the fact that on June 17 the Shanghai Chamber resolution had been received in London. Had it not been for the Reuter message, the matter probably would not have been revealed. Even at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday the discussion was held in committee. The conclusions of the Chamber are open to criticism, while the method adopted by that body is to be deplored.

The arguments advanced by the committee in the resolution will carry small conviction with many. The statement that "any measures towards improving the price of silver must be accompanied by improvement in commodity prices" reveals a surprising misconception on the part of the authors. Delegates to the economic Conference are far more unanimous on the point that commodity prices must be raised than on the silver problem, and it is certain that no agreement for rehabilitation will be effected without prior or concurrent agreements on currency stabilisation, tariff reductions, and an agreement for an international monetary standard. But the astounding portion of the Chamber committee's statement is the assertion that "China's purchasing power is primarily dependent upon the volume of her export trade in regard to which a high level of silver — assuming a continuance of low commodity prices in the world at large — would prove a great hindrance." Is then the Chamber of Commerce advocating that China pursue a policy of cut-throat competition in the world's trade, utilising the advantages of low labour costs and an unnaturally depreciated currency? The danger of such industrial competition is obvious. The committee disagrees with the world's leading economists who for years have contended that one of the principal advantages that would accrue from an increase in the price of silver would be the stimulus to trade in the Orient and India. The position is ably summed-up by "The Times," which, advocating the rehabilitation of silver, contends "that a rise in the price of silver by improving the standard of living in China will prevent hot-house growth of industry and, by increasing the Far Eastern purchasing power, would increase demand and thus raise the prices of other commodities." The Chamber of Commerce favours stability in silver — as any right-minded person must — but it would surely not suggest that the metal be stabilised at its present unnatural level — a course of action which would retard any rise in commodity prices.

"WOMEN GO DIRECT TO THE POINT."

Sir Ian Hamilton On Feminine Topics.

BULL-FIGHT ANALOGY.

London.
"Woman goes direct to the point — and usually gets there." That at any rate is what General Sir Ian Hamilton thinks. Proposing "The Women's Section" at a dinner of the women's section of the British Legion in London, Sir Ian declared that the fact that women nowadays sometimes wore trousers did not mean that the two sexes had drawn more closely together. "The more women try to become manly," he said, "the more feminine, thank the Lord, they must and will remain." "Reading the papers the other day, I came upon a little item of real consequence. 'On the Franco-Spanish frontier the authorities decided to try bull-fighting with cows instead of bulls. But they were able to try it only once, for the cows killed all the matadors as fast as they tried to stand up to them. The cows took not the slightest notice of the fluttering red cloak with which the matador endeavoured to distract their attention, but went straight for the main point — and struck.' So it is with us human beings. Man imagines all sorts of vain things. He is always using up his strength rushing after some fluttering illusive ideal. Woman goes direct to the point and usually gets there." — Reuter.

PROVISIONS AS PAYMENT.

Peas Bring Queues.

Vienna.
A theatre manager in Hatvan, Hungary, was in despair. His show was excellent but the theatre remained empty. Suddenly he had an idea. He advertised that he would take payment in kind. Now the theatre is playing to crowded houses and the manager has had to hire a warehouse to store the dried peas, hams, eggs, chickens and flour with which the people are paying for their seats. — Reuter.

LONDON TOPICS

OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

Mr. Stobart's Parrot.

The death of Mr. J. C. Stobart, Education Director of the B.B.C., removes one of the most genial and the most inventive personalities of broadcasting. Many were the innovations that he made to stimulate interest in the Children's Hour when the radio audience was still small. One of his failures amused him greatly. He purchased a green parrot, reputed to be a most eloquent bird, to talk to the children. But not a word would it say, though it was kept in a cage in the educational department for three weeks. Eventually it died, dumb to the last. A more successful venture was the prize-givings, dropped when the number of child listeners made continuance impossible.

Energy.

Now that Lord Burghley has been appointed Parliamentary private secretary to Lord Halifax for the period of the World Economic Conference he is one of the busiest young men in Parliament. He takes his job at the House of Commons very seriously, even though he is working in the City in the morning, while his recent appointment to the chairmanship of the Junior Imperial League also demands a considerable amount of his time.

Despite these manifold activities, he frequently steals an odd hour or so to run at the White City, and in the hunting season he has been known to leave the House of Commons at midnight, drive to Stamford, hunt in the morning, and drive back to the House again the same day.

Othello, 6ft. 4½in.

Though "Othello" is admittedly one of Verdi's finest works, it is not heard so often as it deserves, and its inclusion in a recent programme of the Italian opera season at Covent Garden was, therefore, the more welcome.

Probably the governing consideration is the difficulty of finding a singer with the necessary physique and endurance for the role of the Moor, who must not only have an imposing appearance, but also be able to keep the voice working hard all evening on most exacting top-line passages. Lauritz Melchior, the great Danish tenor, who has sung throughout the German season, should unquestionably be able to fill the bill.

Queen Alexandra's Tribute.

As a choirboy in Copenhagen he was summoned and kissed by Queen Alexandra as reward for a beautiful soprano solo. Many years later, with reputation increased in proportion to his stature — Melchior stands 6ft. 4½in. in his socks — he sang for the Queen again at Marlborough House on several occasions.

During the war he served as a subaltern in the Danish army. He complains that, as neutrals, he and his comrades never had anything to do. "We carried about the most beautiful sharp bullets and never fired one all the time."

The Derby Club.

Clearly the new Derby Club, which has just had its inaugural dinner, under the presidency of its namesake, the Earl of Derby, is destined to be a success.

The limit of its membership, fixed at 100, has been almost reached; and for that outcome of a new venture Lord Derby paid generous tribute to the honorary secretary.

The new club gathered more than 200 sportsmen to its Derby dinner, and among them they backed their chances and their fancies for the race to the tune of more than £8,000 in the course of the evening.

Lord Derby was immensely delighted by the turn of fortune which gave him Hyperion as the reward for one of his sweepstakes, and a few minutes later he bought in the chances of the Thrapston, his other candidate, for £250. Hyperion's ticket had been sold to Sir Frederick Eley for £750 — top price of the night.

Art In Transit.

It is probable that Mr. Isidore de Lara's new opera, "Le Vollier Blanc," which was produced in Budapest recently, was partly written in railway trains. Mr. de Lara, who was born in London, finds motion particularly stimulating to creative art.

Mr. Bernard Shaw and Mr. J. B. Priestley write voluminously in transit, whether on ships or in trains. Mr. J. C. Squire composes poetry in taxicabs and on the tops of buses — in fact, everywhere.

All have the example of an illustrious predecessor. A considerable part of Anthony Trollope's writing was done in trains when he was travelling for the Post Office. He was never in love with the practice, however, maintaining that it savoured of "literary ostentation."

The Philharmonic Medal.

Musical London will be interested to learn that the Royal Philharmonic Society has decided to confer its gold medal upon Sir Hamilton Harty, conductor of the London Symphony Orchestra, and for thirteen years permanent conductor to the Halle Society of Manchester.

The presentation will be made upon the occasion of the Philharmonic Society's last concert of its next winter season — a season for which it has been decided to at least double the number of concerts given by Sir Thomas Beecham's famous orchestra.

Suitably to mark the occasion the Philharmonic Society has invited Sir Hamilton to conduct its orchestra — an invitation which he has accepted.

For St. George's Chapel.

The Dukes of Somerset and Sutherland are respectively chairman and hon. treasurer of an Association of Descendants of the Knights of the Garter.

This body has raised very considerable sum as a nucleus for an endowment fund to maintain not only St. George's Chapel, but the three cloisters at Windsor. The official income of the Chapter is wholly inadequate for the purpose. It was, therefore, a happy thought to ask persons descended from King Edward III., or from the Founder Companions of this order of chivalry, to contribute £5. annually to keep in good repair this heritage of historic buildings.

The Old Ashmolean's Founder.

Ellas Ashmole, founder of the Old Ashmolean, was recently recalled in connection with the dispute at Oxford. Although he told Pepys that "frogs and many insects do often fall from the skies ready-formed," he was a learned man in his way.

As a distinguished son of Oxford, too, he presented twelve wagon-loads of miscellaneous rarities to the Old Ashmolean Museum, which Sir Christopher Wren had erected ready to receive them in 1683.

Ashmole was a true "virtuoso" of the type in which the Royal Society of the time abounded and of which Wren himself and Sir Kenelm Digby were the proto-types par excellence. The scope of their quest for knowledge was as amazingly wide as their faith in their "curiosities" was occasionally childlike.

Wonders Past Belief.

Many of Ashmole's miscellaneous rarities, for instance, came originally from the famous Tradescant "Ark" in South London, which Ashmole had inherited.

A glance at the rare 1686 catalogue of this collection reveals such astonishingly remarkable possessions as "the stone from the castle where Hellen of Greece was born," "hairy-tongued lizards from Ireland," "a bustard as big as a turkey," usually taken by greyhounds on Newmarket Heath; "St. George and the Dragon," and "85 emperours' faces cut perfectly." If the first Ashmolean Museum Tradescantianum, as at one time was intended, the present trouble would not have arisen.

ESKIMOS INVENTORS OF JAZZ.

Musk-Ox Walk Like Modern One-Step.

A WILD IGLOO PARTY.

Ottawa. The Eskimos of the great frozen spaces of Canada's far north are under a cloud of heavy suspicion. A "Mounty" Corporal accuses them of inventing jazz.

This officer, Corporal Nichols of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, became the guest of Neuktuk, the local "big-wig" at Baker Lake, above Chesterfield Inlet, in the North West Territories.

Neuktuk gave a party in his igloo (snow hut) in honour of the Corporal—and it was then that the Officer saw the drum dance which convinced him that jazz first came from the Arctic and not from Central Africa.

This is the Corporal's description of the party: "All hands gathered in the main igloo, the men sitting on the snow bench, whilst the women sat in a circle on the floor. The drum consisted of a caribou skin, scraped and cleaned and stretched tightly across a hoop.

"It was oval-shaped and about five feet across its greatest width. It had a handle at the base.

"How the drum was manipulated would require a thesis by a technocrat. It is held by the handle with the left hand, with the hand outstretched and the handle on a line with the shoulder. The skin is struck with a short stick. The drum is turned with every beat and the drummer imitates which-ever animal his song may be about. The women sing and the men join in the chorus."

The "jazz complex" is described as being most evident in the Musk-Ox Song, when the drummer goes through a stealthy, wiggly, Musk-Ox Walk—said to be very much like an ultra-modern one-step.

Each song has 10 verses, and it is contended that the words of the chorus are in keeping with the best jazz traditions. They are:—"Yah, yah, yah, yah!"—Reuter.

LAST OF EMPIRE'S FEUDAL STATES.

Romantic History Of Isle Of Sark.

SEIGNEUR IN LONDON.

London. One of the most romantic figures at this year's Courts was Mrs. Robert Hathaway, Dame of Sark, who came to London to present her debutante daughter and daughter-in-law.

At home, on her island, Mrs. Hathaway reigns supreme. She is the "Seigneur" of the only independent feudal state within the Empire.

A charter granted to her ancestors by Queen Elizabeth endows her with all the rights and privileges enjoyed by the feudal barons of medieval times.

Over her Parliament, which consists of the "Sleura" or heads of the 40 land-owning families of the island, she has the power of a King. She opens it herself and she can veto any law it passes. She can also forbid the sale of any land.

In accordance with ancient feudal law, every man on the island owes her two days' work a year. If he does not wish to do it himself, he must provide a substitute. In the same way, anyone possessing a horse and cart is obliged to lend them to the community, free of charge, for two days in the year.

A poll-tax of a shilling is levied on every stranger who lands on the island—but that does not go to augment the "Seigneur's" income. She is putting it into a fund to build a better harbour—which, it is estimated, will cost some £30,000.

All Mrs. Hathaway's 700 subjects speak English when addressing visitors, but when they talk among themselves they speak a dialect which resembles closely the language spoken by William the Conqueror and the Barons who accompanied him to England in 1066.

Even licensing laws come within the jurisdiction of the Seigneur, with the result that the islanders are free to enjoy uninterrupted drinks from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m.

There are no restrictions on the sale of drinks in hotels and Scotch whisky may be had for 8s. 6d. a bottle.—Reuter.

MOTOR-CAR MIX-UP IN JOHANNESBURG.

Mule-Cart Causes Many Collisions.

Johannesburg. Eleven people in three motor-cars, a motor lorry and a mule-drawn cart, were involved in an accident in Louis Botha Avenue in Johannesburg.

The lorry was proceeding along the Avenue and attempted to pull up owing to a mule-drawn cart in front. The lorry was forced to turn towards the centre of the road to avoid the cart, whereupon a car coming in the opposite direction turned into a car parked at the roadside.

A "baby" car following behind the lorry then came into collision with it. The back of the small car was nearly ripped away and it came to a sudden stop at the kerb of the pavement. No one was injured.—Reuter.

BLOOD TAXATION PROBLEM.

New York Official In A Quandary.

New York. Is blood taxable? This question has been puzzling local authorities here.

Many questions have been asked about the new sales tax which went into effect May 1, but the Deputy Director in charge of the local tax office was stumped by this one.

A representative of a hospital asked him whether a sales tax was due on blood for transfusions and if so whether it is classified as real, tangible or intangible property.—Reuter.

FRENCH NUN DECLARED "BLESSED"

Long Controversy Ended.

MAGNIFICENT CEREMONY IN ROME

Rome. After 36 years of argument and discussion before the authorities of the Catholic Church, the title of "blessed" has been bestowed by the Pope on the Ven. Sister Marie de Ste. Euphrase Pelletier, the daughter of a French doctor of the time of the French revolution, who founded the Sisterhood of the Good Shepherd at Angers.

The purpose of the order is the care of fallen women. Starting with a small convent at Angers, it has spread till it has over 300 houses in all parts of the world, including Great Britain and Ireland, 8,000 sisters, and about 60,000 persons in hospitals. Marie Pelletier died in 1860.

Scarlet tapestries and brocades draped round the piers, and candles blazing everywhere, made a brilliant background for the beatification ceremony in St. Peter's. French pilgrims, including a large party from Angers, and also pilgrims from England and Ireland, formed a substantial part of the huge congregation which thronged the church.

The procession of prelates was composed of the canons of the Church and the Cardinals of the Congregation of Rites, before whom the case has been argued during its long course. The Cardinals wore the gorgeous vestments of their office.

Walking across to the Cardinal Prefect of Rites, the Postulator of the cause of Marie Pelletier asked authorisation for the reading of the Papal Bull conferring on her "The honours of the Altar."

Authorisation was given and the Postulator handed the Bull to the Canon Secretary of the Chapter, who mounted a little pulpit specially erected for the purpose and read it.

A hush came over the congregation. Priests moved silently to and fro adjusting cloths on the altar. Pilgrims strained their necks for a better view.

Then suddenly the priests stepped aside, unveiling a picture of the Ven. Marie Pelletier painted on silk and a reliquary containing her relics. Simultaneously the great arches of the nave were picked out in glowing lights and innumerable electric bulbs were switched on throughout the church, throwing up the richness of the decorations of brocade and gold. From outside came the sound of the bells pealing the "Gloria," and finally the great bell of the south-east tower added its deeper note to the great medley of sound which surged across the Tiber, announcing the addition of a new name to the Roll of Honour of the Catholic Church.

Before the ceremony concluded copies of the life of the new "blessed" and of her portrait painted on silk were handed to each of the prelates present.

Final confirmation of the honour to which the French nun has been raised came during the evening when the Pope, after kneeling before the high altar of St. Peter's, received the reliquary, the picture of the new blessed, the book of her life and a great bunch of artificial flowers.

The choir sang a hymn in honour of Marie Pelletier, then Pius XI mounted his gestatorial chair, borne aloft by 12 servitors in red, while trumpeters played the Papal march, and left the church amid shouts of "Long live the Pope" from thousands of pilgrims. The process of 36 years had ended.—Reuter.

GS$3,000,000 IN BEER TAX.

First Month's Result In New York.

New York. About $3,000,000 in beer taxes were collected in New York City during the first month after the sale of 8.2 beer was legalized, according to figures issued by the President of the New York State Brewers' Association.—Reuter.

AUSTRALIAN CENSUS TO BE TAKEN.

TWO TO THREE YEARS' WORK.

Canberra, F.C.T. It is anticipated that the census will reveal a population of about 6,600,000 people in Australia. The population at the last census, in 1921, was 5,435,734, and at the first census in 1911 was 4,455,005. The cost has been estimated at $275,000 which is less than was at first expected. Of this $160,000 will be absorbed in the collection of the census, and $125,000 will be spent in tabulating the figures. About 250 men will be employed in Canberra for the next two or three years on this work.—Reuter.

4,000-YEAR-OLD CAVE OF DEATH.

Discovery In Italian Hillside.

VAULT FOR MASS BURIAL

Palermo. Workmen digging on a hill-side near Agrigento suddenly came upon a prehistoric subterranean passage believed to be 4,000 years old.

Crawling down the passage they found themselves in a great underground vault, 600 feet long and 50 feet high, the roof of which was supported by pillars.

It is believed that the vault dates from about 2000 B.C.

It was used, in the opinion of an eminent Italian scientist, for a mass burial. The walls of the vault were delicately painted, and after 4,000 years without air or light the paintings were in a fine state of preservation.

A similar vault, which has just been found near Caltagirone, in Sicily, contained about 100 skeletons which crumbled to pieces on contact with the air.—Reuter.

LION IN DRESSING ROOM.

Actress Scared Into Impromptu Act.

San Francisco. Applause swept the theatre as Kathleen Healy dashed across the stage and plunged into the orchestra pit. It was "great comedy," decided the patrons. But Miss Healy didn't think so. She had just come face to face with a lion in her dressing room.

Police and firemen eventually herded it back into its cage off stage.—Reuter.

"THE STREET OF THE DUSTBIN."

Tribute Paid To Paris Benefactor.

Paris. A Paris street, "Rue Poubelle," was named for the man introduced dustbins to the city.

He was Eugene Poubelle, Prefect of Police about 1850. It was he who decreed that rubbish, instead of being dumped in the street, should be placed in dustbins and removed each morning by the municipal services. Dustbins are also called "poubelles."—Reuter.

WOMAN JUMPS OFF FERRY.

Police Launch Rescue.

Wong Ng, age 35, a married woman, leaped from the Man Chi ferry yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

Several seamen on the ferry saw her and jumped in after her at once. They would probably have had a hard time rescuing her if Police Launch No. 7 had not been on the look-out. The launch arrived in time to help the seamen and rescue the woman.

As the woman suffered no ill effects from the immersion she was taken to her home on Hy Po Road by the Police.

SUGAR CANE FACTORY FOR MADRAS.

EXPLOITATION AID

Ellore. The Madras Government, it is understood, will start an organisation for aiding the exploitation of the resources of sugarcane cultivation. It is to be known as the Cooperative and Industrial Credit Society, among the objects of which are the teaching of improved methods of sugarcane cultivation and the giving of advances for the salt cultivation.

As regards public enterprise, it is announced that a company called the "India Sugars and Refineries Ltd." with the Raja of Bobbili, Chief Minister, and others as directors and with an authorised capital of Rs. 20,000,000 will soon be started. The company's factory will be located at Hospet, in the Bellary District. The factory will be equipped on up-to-date lines and will have an initial capacity for crushing over 400 tons of sugarcane a day.

The Indian Tariff Board on sugar had reported that "the expansion of the sugar industry in India is an inevitable adjunct to agricultural development." It is therefore natural that Government as well as public enterprise have been showing some activity in this direction.

The annual import of foreign sugar into India is stated to be about 1,000,000 tons and barely a fifth of the total quantity is manufactured in India, though the country abounds in the raw material necessary for the industry.—Reuter.

WOMAN PUMPED BACK TO LIFE.

Thames Police Use New Apparatus.

London. A woman has been "pumped" back to life by Thames police using apparatus recently supplied to them for the first time.

The woman, who had fallen into the river, showed no sign of life when ordinary methods of artificial respiration were applied—but she was soon breathing normally when carbon-dioxide gas was administered by means of the new "gun."

This "gun," which is only some nine inches high, replaces cylinders weighing a hundredweight.

A six-inch "cartridge" (rather like those used in soda-water syphons) of compressed carbon-dioxide gas, with or without oxygen, is contained in a heavy plated cylinder pierced by a screw handle which will also control the flow of gas. The gas is applied to the nostrils by a small rubber mask, and immediately causes respiratory action of the lungs.—Reuter.

FISHERMEN CATCH BICYCLE.

Stolen Machine Returned To Owners.

Sydney. It's another fisherman's tale, but it's true.

Two North Coast anglers set three Jewish lines on the South Grafton wharf, and caught—on the first line a sting-ray, on the second a conger eel, and on the third—a Government Railways bicycle, which had been reported stolen six months ago.

The bicycle was returned to its owners, little the worse for its immersion.—Reuter.

TERRIBLE TOLL OF INDIA'S JUNGLE.

1,199 People Die From Snake Bites.

Nagpur. How human beings are destroyed by India's wild creatures is vividly brought home by official figures just issued for the Central Provinces.

During the past year: 43 people were killed by tigers, 17 people were killed by leopards, 36 people were killed by wolves and bears, and 1,199 people died from snake bites. Deaths due to snake bites are said to have increased.—Reuter.

Man's Progress Towards The Light

Universe Is God's House Of Many Rooms

THE DAY HAS BEEN PREPARED

(By A Local Padre.)

(This is another of the series of articles written exclusively for the "Sunday Herald" by a local Army chaplain.)

As we look at life, from the cradle to the grave, one great fact stands out remarkably clear, and it is this, that along every step we have to tread, not only have we the presence of God, but He has been before us to prepare the way.

We were born into a world that was made ready. It has been clothed in beauty, to delight the eye, covered with sustenance for the human frame, stored with energy for our intelligence. Since Nature awoke from her primeval chaos in the twilight of history, she has been preparing for the arrival of each child of men. He needs clothing the sheep are pasturing upon the hills. He needs food—the mysterious centuries ago the leaves bathed in sunshine were falling to the earth, which live again in the warmth of a fireplace on a winter's night.

We are born into a society that has been prepared. Unless life has the right environment it perishes, and an environment contains a thousand yesterdays. We are the heirs of all the ages. Written into our nature is the long story of man's progress towards the light, all the bravery, the courage, the faithfulness to the truth that the generations before us have learned and passed on. There is waiting for us in the vast library of the ages, the knowledge built up by the very life blood of scientists and thinkers since the dawn of time.

We struggle into speech, and in our language there is interwoven the heritage of the Celt and the Saxon, the pride and chivalry of Norman conquerors, long before we acquire the idiomatic phraseology of our cousins across the broad Atlantic!

Church Is Home.

More than all this, is it not true, as a great writer Morrison puts it, we were born into a home prepared for us? God has not only been busy in the world, but there as well. Sometimes a visitor comes to see us, of whose coming we have had no warning, until he stands upon the doorstep. Not so with a child. Love has been very busy to make it welcome. Is there anything in all the world more wonderful than the sight of a woman the little garments for her child that is to be, every stitch a prayer, new fountains of tenderness, new feelings scarcely suspected before welling up in her heart? The future has a different message, God seems nearer and His hand more wonderful, that is why home should be a type of heaven, a prepared place for a prepared people. God has gone before with the blessings of goodness.

There is waiting for us the home of His Church, waiting to receive us at our Baptism, to lead our feet into the way of truth, to guide us to our Confirmation to sanctify our wedding vows to speak the last message when our bodies are laid in their last long resting place to await the coming of the dawn. And His grace is there, and the memory of His love for little children, and the cleansing made possible by His cross uplifted against an Eastern sky long centuries ago. Always He is before.

Think too, of our progress through the stages of our life. We leave the paths of childhood, and pass into the highlands of youth. Our eyes are turned towards the skyline where the strange roads go down. There comes into our hearts the call of high adventure, that burns like a fire within, the lure of the strange and the unknown, the dangerous and the faraway. Even there He has been before us. We are not asked to tread it alone and without a guide. Along the way that stretches out before us along the vista of the years, we can see the footprints of another who passed on ahead. We know whose they are, for in the centre of each footprint is the mark of a nail. They are those of One who once said "Follow Me."

Me, for I am the Way, the Truth and the Life."

Then there comes the day when we say farewell to youth and take our journey on a dustier road. The fact that God is there before us is the source of fortitude and hope. Hope is just God a little way ahead, kindling the lamps and levelling the path. Though we cannot see Him, our hearts which are wiser than our heads, know that He is there.

When we are young we hunger for adventure, when we are old we long for repose. When we are foolish we want to conquer worlds, when we are wise we want to conquer self. When we are children we long for fame, but when we are taught a little, we begin to see that it is better to be faithful than to be famous. Our life is measured not by what we win, but by the thing we strive for. As a man deepens so his longings deepen, till they reach to the infinite and the eternal, and God is ever there before us, with His prepared answer to our quest. We crave for love, and it is there, as ancient as the heart-beat of the world. We crave for pardon and for peace, and all that has been made ready long ago.

Glory Of Heaven. Does not this thought illuminate for us the close of life? He is there before us as we step into the valley of the shadow. I go to prepare a place for you. Whatever heaven may be, it is man's native place, prepared for him since the foundation of the world. And then, within that kingdom, all made ready, there is to be the individual touch—a place for you.

Of what kind that preparation is, eye hath not seen and ear hath not heard. All we know is that we shall be at home, and welcomed by familiar hands. And if here the preparation is so wonderful that waits for a little child, how much more wonderful shall it all be, when dying, we are born into the glory. If love has been busy making ready here, shall love not also be busy making ready there? The universe is just our Father's house of many rooms, and we but pass from one into another. Let us just be content to leave it there, not searching into the hidden things, and worrying about what awaits us, remembering always that at the grave as at the cradle, the love of God our Father is on ahead.

SERGEANT DONALD MACLEOD

ROMANTIC FIGURE OF ROYAL SCOTS

A FORGOTTEN HERO

(By R. H. Bruce Lockhart.)

DISILLUSIONED youth demands new heroes. I see no candidate on the horizon who is fit to consort with the established idols. We must look backward again.

I give you Sergeant Donald Macleod.

Modern history books ignore him. It is nothing to the historian that Donald Macleod lived 103 years, killed hundreds of warriors, and compensated the world by raising up a vast progeny of fighters. But a publisher has just reprinted the story of Donald Macleod, and there is no recently published book which has excited me more.

John Macleod was a Skye gentleman who had run away with his cousin Isabella while she was still at school. John was then sixteen and Isabella fourteen. Obviously the child of so romantic a union was destined for a life of travel and adventure, and the child was Donald Macleod.

Moreover, his maternal grandfather was Sir Roderick Macdonald, and, as our present Prime Minister has shown, Macdonalds rarely hide on their own midden-heaps.

For all his gentle birth Donald had a dour introduction to life. His mother died when he was six, and his father went to sea. At the age of nine he was apprenticed to an Inverness firm of stonemasons.

Cudgel-play and practice with the broadsword were his recreations, thin porridge and fish his sustenance. Later in life, he attributed his strength and athletic figure to the penury of his youth. His stomach, he said, "was never dilated to the usual size of men's brought up in plenty."

At the age of eleven Donald ran away. At thirteen he had taken the King's shilling from a recruiting sergeant of the Royal Scots. At sixteen he was already fighting for Marlborough in the Low Countries.

With the Peace of Utrecht in 1713 he begins an astounding career as a duellist. He is now the finest swordsman in the British Army. At Utrecht he kills a French non-commissioned officer who has insulted him. At Brede he aims higher.

In another exchange of verbal pleasures he challenges a French lieutenant and kills him. In Lille he crosses swords with a German officer. The German has no quarrel with Macleod; sense of honour has compelled him, though a poor swordsman, to take the place of a cowardly fellow-countryman. This time Macleod mercifully contents himself with cutting off a slice of the enemy's calf. The two men then fraternise and spend the night in drinking.

The story of Donald's duels would fill a book. He was never beaten. But we must return to his military career. Severely wounded at Sheriffmuir, he was sent South to recuperate.

A Forced March. In Newcastle he hears of the raising of Lord Lovat's Highland regiment — the famous Highland or Black Watch. The call of the kilt is too strong, and he rushes off to Edinburgh to secure release from the Royal Scots. Making his peace with the Earl of Orkney, he sets out from Edinburgh at 3 a.m. Two days later, at the same hour, he stands before Lord Lovat at his castle outside Inverness, having walked 100 miles in forty-eight hours.

His only food was a piece of bread and cheese, supplemented by an onion and a dram at every town. The dram, taken neat, was no thimble. It was a half-pint measure. And for the honour of Scotland he said that the Scottish pint in those days was equal to three Imperial pints.

Lord Lovat received his now famous recruit with a warm kiss on both cheeks. "Donald," he said, "for a thousand men like you I'd give my estate." So pleased was he that he took Donald in to see Lady Lovat, who lay in an adjoining bed-chamber, and there, with a bottle of brandy consumed by all three, Donald Macleod was enrolled as a Sergeant of the Highland Watch.

For twenty years Donald happily trained soldiers and chased Highland robbers. And on one of these robber raids he found his first wife.

He was sent to capture a notorious brigand called Robertson. The brigand had a daughter. She agreed to become Donald's wife, but old Robertson was treacherous. He sent three huge armed Highlanders to attack his son-in-law. Donald chased them away, then went in search of his wife's father, only to forgive him when Mrs. Macleod, prettily pleading, intervened in the quarrel.

After the outbreak of the war of the Australian Succession in 1740 the Highland Watch, which had been recruited purely as a police force for home service, was ordered to Flanders. This change in the terms of service stirred a section of the regiment to revolt.

Donald was not among the mutineers. He was now fifty-four, but his love for travel and war was still strong. From now on he had his fill of fighting; only in the '45 did he take no part, since the Black Watch, half of whose men had relations fighting for Prince Charlie, was not to be trusted in that campaign.

He battled magnificently at Fontenoy, slaying a French colonel and stopping in the midst of that bloody battle to extract 175 ducats and a gold watch from his victim's pocket. In 1769 he was wounded in the first charge at the Battle of the Heights of Abraham, but, bleeding, gave his plaid to wrap the dying General Wolfe.

Two years later he stopped a ball between his ribs when fighting for Frederick the Great in Germany — a wound which incommoded him, "but only after violent exercise, such as walking against time for wages." His last appearance as a soldier was in the War of Independence, for which he volunteered and actually made the trip to America. He was employed as a drill sergeant, but was soon sent home as too old for campaigning.

Back to Poverty. Donald was eighty-seven. He had earned his rest, but his troubles were not over. Settling out from London by sea for Inverness, he suffered shipwreck, lost all his goods and was the only man saved. He was now as poor as when he started, his only assets being a faithful wife (successor to the brigand's daughter) and a small pension.

His greatest exploit was reserved for his 101st year. Some hitch had occurred in the payment of his pension, so he walked

MORNING AFTER

● Eat, drink, and be merry! No need to feel "sunk" next day. Take a laxative dose of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia when you go to bed, or with your breakfast orange. It rids stomach and bowels of all lingering poisons. No headaches. No nausea. Not even a coated tongue. Get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia; substitutes are not the same.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at drug stores everywhere. Each day tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

WISE & OTHERWISE

INSIDE KNOWLEDGE.

Five half-crowns, two florins, and three shillings were discovered inside a Zoo ostrich which died recently. The bird evidently had its own views on banking methods.

IGNORANT.

The man who thought that Oggus was the last line of letters on a sight-testing chart.

Probable Explanation.

A snake was found the other day in a Sussex nudist colony, contentedly basking in the sun. Perhaps the poor creature was under the impression that it had found its way back to the Garden of Eden.

PLEASURE CRUISE.

The girl stood on the burning deck. The sun blazed fiercely down. She flazed and stizzed, but she didn't care. She was turning a beautiful brown.

DISTURBING.

A scientist hopes shortly to eliminate irritating noises altogether. Mr. Bernard Shaw is said to be apprehensive.

HER IDEA.

A hairpin, wrote a Birmingham schoolgirl, is a dangerous bend in the road.

Listen, Girls — Where ignorance is kissed, 'tis folly to be wise.

Words That Send A Chill Down My Spine.

"That grass is getting very long again."

"She needs de-cocking and new plugs . . . and those tyres are pretty worn."

"Well, what's she accuse us of, night?"

"What security can you offer the bank?"

Ankylostomiasis. For instance. The editor of a medical magazine says he often pays as much as one shilling a word for articles. But some of those medical words are worth it.

—AND BUTTER.

It is the truth, upon my soul, When all is done and said; The actor plays his nightly role To earn his daily bread.

FRIGHTENED THE BEAST.

"Maybe she isn't much to look at now, but she must have been very attractive in her youth."

What makes you think that? "Well, she told me that a horse ran away with her once."

PROPHECIES.

A fashion writer predicts that feminine bathing dresses will be shorter than ever this summer. Then I predict that masculine looks will be longer than ever.

Never run after a tramcar or a girl; there's be another one along in a minute.

The Path of Matrimony. The road to rue-in.

POINTED.

A naturalist says that wasps are drilled like soldiers. And we humans are the parade-grounds on which they perform their bayonet practice.

NO ROOM.

The greatest argument against a man having two wives is that it would leave him no place to hang his clothes.

FEARLESS.

Minister: "Now, Macpherson, why don't you fight against your longing for drink? When you are tempted, think of your wife at home." Macpherson (thoughtfully): "When the thirst is upon me, I am absolutely devoid of fear."

AND THAT'S THAT.

A magistrate declares that wives are far more ready to complain than husbands. Just another instance of women and wine.

ROOSEVELT'S APPEAL.

Arms — and the plaid.

EVER BEEN HAD.

According to a lady's paper, tight-lacing will become fashionable once more. We can't see our girls being taken in again.

NO GOOD.

"Whisky should be made undrinkable," declares a prohibitionist. They've already done this with beer, but it still sells.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT!

The average restaurant waitress may be slow, but she makes her customers fast.

Judge BUTTER by the facts.

Butter is such an important article in the daily list of food necessities, that its selection deserves more care than often is given.

Is the butter you are now eating as pure and safe as it should be? Is it made from unadulterated milk under conditions that would bear inspection? Are you satisfied with its all-round goodness, its appearance, flavour, purity?

You can be perfectly satisfied if you use only Daisy Brand Butter:

BECAUSE IT IS MADE FROM PURE PASTEURISED MILK FROM COWS GRAZED ON AUSTRALIA'S RICHEST PASTURE LANDS.

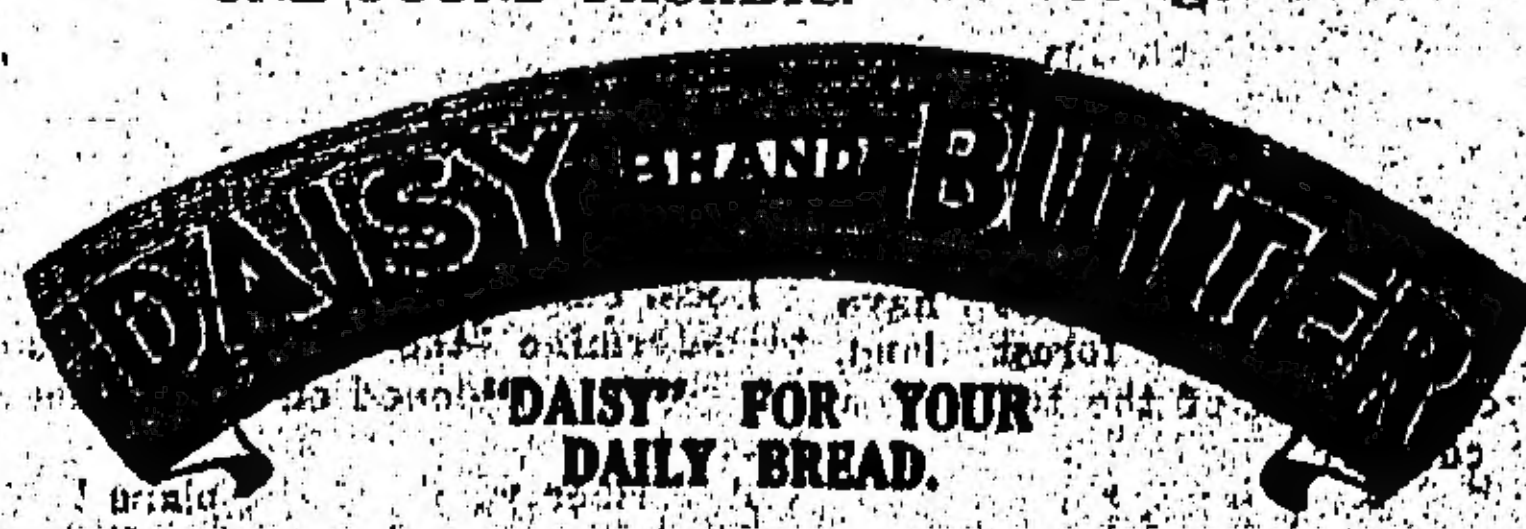

BECAUSE IT IS GUARANTEED FREE FROM PRESERVATIVES. BECAUSE ITS FLAVOUR, COLOUR AND TEXTURE NEVER VARY.

BECAUSE IT HAS 32 YEARS' SOUND REPUTATION IN AUSTRALIA AND 22 YEARS' POPULARITY IN HONG KONG.

BRIDGE NOTES

CONCERNING ACE-SHOWING.

(By ELY CULBERTSON.)

A reader has taken me to task for my so-called felish for Ace-showing as a means of reaching a slam. He considers that the proper employment of the Forcing-Approach system rules out the necessity for exhibiting key cards. I do not agree.

The Forcing Approach system has one thing in common with the Big Club convention in that it operates on a yard stick of values. An opening bid of two in a suit, or One Club, is, according to the system being played, an indication of massed honours with a minimum of five quick tricks and a fairly solid suit. As soon as an ace bid is made, the invitation is extended for at least a game and, potentially, a slam bid.

Responder now examines his hand and gets busy with the eight-five yard stick which is a useful and fairly accurate gauge. It operates on the assumption that eight quick tricks will yield thirteen playing tricks.

It is proportional, so that seven quick tricks should yield a minimum of eleven. With the Forcing-Approach, it is generally required that the bidder should have five and a half tricks, so that if supporting hand has only one and a half quick tricks, there is a game to be made in the best suit and if he has anything more, there are slam probabilities.

Now, the original bid is more than a force, it is a demand, and partner must say something other than "pass."

Holding a barren hand, no responds with a negative Two No Trumps which says, in effect, "Partner, I have no support for you and you must do it all on your own."

Obviously, the bid cannot be left there and the disappointed force must call three in his best suit. But if he has called on five and a half tricks, he has a right to expect a yield of nine tricks and is therefore all right.

To pass the demand bid, even on a Yarborough, is rank bad calling because partner may have a solid game bid in his own hand and is prevented from bidding it because you have closed the auction.

Acceptance.

But if your hand contains anything more than an Ace and a King, it is a supporting hand and you should encourage partner.

A bid of three No-Trump would indicate general assistance with a slightly better than average hand. It is what might be termed a responding stop but not a full stop. It denies prospects of a slam bid unless partner can rebid on strength higher than five and a half tricks.

If the original declarer takes it to four in a major suit, that is an acceptance of the stop invitation. But if he says four in a minor suit, the bidding must be kept alive.

In the latter instance, Ace-showing is very important. Supposing the bidding has gone Two Spades, Three No Trumps, Four Diamonds, and you hold:

S—Q. 7. 6.
H—K. J. 5.
D—J. 10. 9.
C—A. 8. 7. 5.

You should then bid Five Clubs and whatever bid your Partner makes, you should show him the Queen of Spades.

If he says Five Diamonds, say Five Spades. If he says Five Spades, make it Six.

On the yard stick measure you have only one and a half quick tricks, the Ace of Clubs and the King of Hearts but the Queen of Spades is a big "plus" holding and if, during the auction, your partner has mentioned Hearts, your King, Jack in that suit is promoted to one and a half extra tricks.

An Interceptor.

If you have a poor hand and your partner's forcing-two has been overbid by the player on his left, the bidding remains open and you are justified in passing. But if partner rebids, you can bid an otherwise unbidable suit. Here is an example.

The hands are:

JILL.
S—3.
H—Q. 9.
D—K. Q. J. 10. 9.
C—A. K. J. 5. 4.
SAM.
S—A. K. Q.
H—A. K. J. 8. 2.
D—A.
C—Q. 9. 8. 6.

DUMMY.

S—J. 10. 9. 7. 6. 4.
H—10. 6. 3.
D—7. 5. 4. 2.
C—None.
JACK.
S—8. 5. 2.
H—7. 5. 4.
D—8. 6. 3.
C—10. 7. 3. 2.

Sam has opened with Two Hearts and been overbid by Jill at Three Diamonds. Sue passes and Sam makes it Three Hearts, which goes round to Sue. She should now say Three Spades. Sam, remembering that his partner passed first time round, can picture supporting hand as being possessed of a long raft of Spades. There should be six of them to be bid-able, or else outside strength, and with his three tops he should say four or even Five Spades. Sue, finding support for her long suit in Sam's hand can now put the bidding up a trick because of her void in Clubs and so the small slam is reached.

In play, Sam took the first trick with the Ace of Diamonds, drew the enemy trumps, discarded two losing Diamonds on the established Hearts and made his contrag.

ENGLISH GIRLS ARE LOSING VIGOUR.

Guide Commissioner's Opinion.

London, "English girls are not so hardy as girls of other countries," declared Mrs. Mark Kerr, Commissioner of the English Girl Guides, in a recent speech. "They have almost lost the use of their legs by riding in buses and cars." Not every one agrees with Mrs. Kerr. A booking clerk at one of the main railway stations says that he sells three hiker's tickets to girls for every one he sells to men. The girls often walk 20 miles in a day.—Reuter.

Sergeant Donald Macleod.

from Inverness to London to present a petition to King George.

He was received at St. James's Palace, where the King refused to allow him to kneel, made him a Chelsea pensioner, and presented him with ten guineas.

Donald, now the father of sixteen sons, and of at least as many daughters, was not yet done. He decided to show London what manner of a man the Highlands could breed. He undertook, for a wage of 100 guineas, to walk ten miles on the Hammersmith-road within two hours and a half on a brisk October morning; and he won the bet with some minutes in hand. You will find the record of the feat in the "Annual Register" or the "Caledonian Mercury" for 1790.

Donald died aged 103, his oldest son being then eighty-three and his youngest ten. You who aspire to long life will want to know his rules of health. Here they are: "I eat when I'm hungry, drink when I'm dry, and never go to bed except when I can't help it."

Had Donald Macleod been a German or an Italian his statue would stand to-day in the square of his native town and his toast would be drunk nightly in his regimental mess.

Modern Scots should revive and revere the memory of this forgotten hero. His story is the solid stuff from which the martial records of the Highlands were woven: an inspiration for courage and a call to adventure.

ALL SEEDED PLAYERS WIN AT WIMBLEDON

Von Cramm and Nourney started off very shakily in their match against Del Bono and Sertorio, the Italian pair. Von Cramm was exceptionally erratic in the early exchanges, making many foolish blunders.

The Italians carried all before them in the first set, but, in spite of the terrific pace set by their opponents and Del Bono's accurate cannon ball service, the German pair recovered well to secure the next three sets as the result of aggressive tactics.

Itoh opened very shakily in his doubles match, serving several doubles in the first game. Miss Hardwicke, his 19-year-old partner, however, played much better than she had done previously.

She drove well on both hands and lobbed cleverly in spite of the heavy baseline bombardment by her opponents, and was largely responsible for Itoh regaining his confidence to secure the match in straight sets.

Norman Farquharson and J. V. Kirby completely over-powered Aoki and Tuckett with terrific services. Farquharson putting away wonderful cross-court smashes.

R. Nuno and Jiro Satoh revealed their best form when opposed to Condon and C. J. Robbins, the South African players.

The Japanese took the first set easily as the result of going to the net and volleying skilfully. Condon was weak throughout this set, hitting wildly on many occasions.

Though they dropped the second set the Japanese were superior in footwork. Condon settled down better, but the unsettled Robbins gave a poor display.

In the third set Satoh and Nuno speeded up their game and dazzled the South Africans with volleys at close quarters and stinging drives down the centre of the court.

HUGHES BEATS SEEDED PLAYER

London, Yesterday.
G. P. Hughes entered the quarter finals when he eliminated a seeded player (name missed) by 6-7, 7-5, 6-3. The loser must have been either Henri Cochet, or Clifford Satter.—British Wireless Service.

Nuno excelled in the fourth set, flashing over exquisite drives to the feet of Condon, while Satoh sparkled at the net. The Japanese were superior in every department of the game.

FRIDAY'S RESULTS

The latest results as cabled by Reuter were as follow:

Men's Singles—Fourth Round.
Jiro Satoh (Japan) beat De Stefani (Italy) 6-2, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.
R. Menzel (Czechoslovakia) beat G. Lytleton-Rogers (Ireland) 6-1, 6-1, 12-10.
L. J. Stoeffen (U. S. A.) beat H. G. N. Lee (Britain) 5-7, 2-5, 7-5, 7-5, 6-3.
Mixed Doubles—Second Round.
T. Aoki and Miss Feltham beat U. McGrath and Mrs. Covell 6-1, 3-6, 8-6.

L. J. Hollyer (Gordon Forbes & Co.) repeated his success of last year in the Stock Exchange London-to-Brighton walk, although his time for the 62 miles of 8hr. 58min. 13sec. was over five minutes slower than his time last year.

QUICK RELIEF FROM PAIN and HEADACHES

Pain is no respecter of persons. Pain is a cheat. It nags at your nerves and wears you down. It robs millions of happiness and contentment. Pain attacks come suddenly in many forms. There are Head Pains — Rheumatic Pains — Nerve Pains — Headache — Toothache — Earache — Sciatic Pains, etc. In minor cases of pain, take two or three "ASPRO" Tablets and that is usually the end of the attack. In major cases of pain, take "ASPRO" according to the instructions in the packet. "ASPRO" is the greatest antidote for pain yet introduced to the world. It is the easiest, quickest and most effective method of obtaining relief without harming the heart or stomach.

'ASPRO'

Does Not Harm the Heart

Why 'ASPRO' Succeeds where Ordinary 'ASPIRIN' FAILS

There is a lot of confused thought regarding "ASPRO" and Aspirin. The wonderful therapeutic value of "ASPRO" as compared with crude Aspirin is so pronounced and causes so much enquiry as to why "ASPRO" succeeds where ordinary Aspirin fails, that we propose to put the matter clearly in this announcement.

In the first place ordinary Aspirin and "ASPRO" commence from the same basic element. In a general sense they finish up in quite a different manner — "ASPRO" being pure, safe and effective — whilst ordinary Aspirin is frequently harmful and inefficient.

Crude Aspirin contains free Salicylic Acid, which is expressly forbidden in the standards laid down by the British Pharmacopoeia, the guiding authority of the Medical Profession. It is the free Salicylic Acid in Aspirin that causes palpitation of the heart, digestive troubles and other disorders.

The manufacturers of "ASPRO" have eliminated free Salicylic Acid from their product, and prevented its development. A manufacturer may start with a pure drug, and by lack of the latest knowledge may turn out tablets containing free Salicylic Acid, liberated during the processes necessary to prepare the powder for compression.

The following positive claim is made for "ASPRO" Tablets:

THEY ARE OF BRITISH MANUFACTURE. ACETYL - SALICYLIC ACID, FREE FROM ANY TRACE OF FREE SALICYLIC ACID AND CONFORMING TO THE TESTS OF ALL KNOWN AUTHORITIES, THE TABLETS ARE MADE BY PROCESSES WHICH ENSURE THAT THEY ARE OF THE SAME STANDARD OF PURITY AS THE ORIGINAL DRUG AND CONTAIN NO TRACE OF FREE SALICYLIC ACID.

Rheumatism	Malaria
Neuritis	Dengue
Sleeplessness	Sciatica
Toothache	Cout
Earache	Lumbago
Neuralgia	Sore Throat
Colds	Asthma
Influenza	Hay Fever
Feverishness	Irritability
Periodical Pains Peculiar to Women.

The PURITY of 'ASPRO'

The purity of 'ASPRO' conforms to the standard laid down by the British Pharmacopoeia—the guiding authority of the Medical Profession. With 'ASPRO' there is no free Salicylic Acid, therefore, it does not harm the heart, or have any injurious after-effects, such as palpitation, nausea, digestive or other troubles. Safeguard your health and heart by always insisting on 'ASPRO'.

REVENUE DROPS IN MARCH

Big Decrease Shown In Duties.

A sharp drop in the revenue of the Colony for March, as compared with last year, is shown in the comparative statement of revenue and expenditure published in the Government Gazette.

Revenue for March, this year, totalled $2,438,360.79 as against $3,335,950.79 last year. A big decrease is shown in duties, which for March last year, totalled $1,111,169.09 as against $463,800.09 for the corresponding month of this year.

Expenditure for March, 1933, is $2,430,396.34 as compared with $2,825,843.64 last year.

COLONY'S CREDIT-BALANCE. A favourable balance of $14,137,173.12 is shown in the Financial Statement for the Colony published in the Government Gazette this week.

Revenue for March totalled $2,438,360.79, while expenditure for the corresponding month totalled $2,430,396.34. The excess of assets over liabilities on February 28 was $14,129,208.67.

TOURIST BOOM IN ITALY

Holy Year Pilgrims Flock To Rome.

FAIRS AT TURIN AND MILAN

Rome. The tourist traffic is booming in Italy.

Thousands of Catholic pilgrims have been pouring into Rome for the Holy Year and now special trains from all parts of the country are bringing thousands of Italian visitors to the Fascist Exhibition. All Italy seems to be on the move this spring. Trains are packed. Restaurants are crowded. Hotels booked up for weeks ahead.

Owing to the many reductions granted on the State railways it is possible to travel practically from end to end of Italy for about 30 per cent. of the full fare.

Passengers report that trains all over the country are crowded. Often there are people standing, even in first class carriages.

While people pour into Rome from the Provinces, special trains carry thousands of Romans north for the Turin Fashion Fair or the Milan Fair, or South for the Neapolitan spring.

In the streets of the capital, German is heard almost as often as Italian. Giant motorbuses labelled "Berlin" or "Munich" dash in and out of the traffic. Nazis wearing brown shirts fraternise with Italian black shirts, and Sir Oswald Mosley's British Black Shirts, who have been attending the Festival of the Birth of Rome, complete the picture.

In the Vatican, picturesque Swiss Guards guide long processions of silent pilgrims across old-world courtyards and corridors for audiences with the Pope.

It is as though all Italy were throbbing in a determined effort to prove that the depression no longer exists.—Reuter.

BOTTLE OF MILK STOLEN.

Chinese Claims He Was Starving.

An unemployed Chinese, Leung Cheong, was yesterday morning charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy with larceny of a bottle of milk yesterday morning.

The accused was seen by a delivery-man of the Dairy farm Co., running away with a bottle of milk from his basket outside No. 135 Des Voeux Road West. The accused was caught before he had proceeded very far.

Defendant said he was starving and had had no food for several days. He was also suffering from paralysis in the right leg, which prevented him from working. Mr. Schofield remanded the accused for 48 hours, to be medically examined.

CLUB FOR THE "HENPECKED"

Husbands Rebel Against Home Slavery.

Belgrade.

A club has been formed in Tzaribrod, Yugoslavia, by henpecked husbands in revolt against their slavery.

Fifteen members have sworn to keep to the following rules:—
1) No member shall do any housework whatever, save in the event of his wife's illness.

2) Each member must come out alone, at least once every week, to spend an evening with his friends, male and female.

3) No report of how the evening has been passed shall be given to his wife on his return home.

4) Members shall insist on their wives breakfasting with them and, if possible, shall make the wife prepare the breakfast herself.

When members have succeeded in getting these rules fully accepted, the Club will draw up additional rules which will ensure the gradual widening of members' liberties, until they become completely emancipated.

The membership roll of the club and the its meeting-place is to be kept a strict secret, lest enraged wives break it up before it is strong enough to enforce its rules and defend its members.—Reuter.

"SECRETS OF THE FRENCH POLICE."

Murders, master detectives, hypnotism, abductions, and diabolically plotted "accidental" deaths, all spaced at breath-taking tempo, make "Secrets of the French Police" one of the best pictures of its kind ever screened or written. See it, by all means, at the Central Theatre before it gets away.

As taken from the memoirs of H.
Ashton-Wolfe, and combined with Samuel Ornitz's amazing story,
"The Lost Empress," this RKO Radio's picture offers all the thrills possible to pack into an hour and a half of screen entertainment.

Gwili Andre, as the lovely Paris flower girl who is abducted by czarist plotters, hypnotised and presented as the missing Princess Anastasia of Russia, fulfils all the promises she revealed in her early pictures. Gwili Andre is considered by many to be the most beautiful woman on the screen to-day. After seeing her in this picture it is little wonder how the impression got out.

A new-comer makes his bow in "Secrets of the French Police." He is John Warburton, as handsome and as able a young leading man as ever came from England to these shores. Radio signed him to a five-year contract as a result of his work opposite Miss Andre. That fact is adequate comment on his appearance and his abilities.

Another deserving of the highest praise is Frank Morgan, long a Broadway stage favourite, who makes his debut as an RKO Radio player. Morgan, as one of Bertillon's detective, gives a plausibility to the part that makes it stand out from all others in the story. Others who come in for high praise are Gregory Ratoff—remember him in "What Price Hollywood" and Symphony of Six Million?"—Arnold Korff, Christian Rub, and Lucien Prival.

Photography by Al Gilks and direction by Edward Sutherland combine to make "Secrets of the French Police" a four-star picture in any-one's rating.

HEAVY RAINFALL YESTERDAY.

2.3 Inches In 24 Hours.

TYPHOON CAUSES DROP IN TEMPERATURE.

The rainfall in Hong Kong for the 24 hours ended 4 p.m. yesterday was 2.30 inches.

The report yesterday showed that the rainfall for 24 hours ending at 10 a.m. was only 0.30 inches, bringing the total since January 1 to 24.48 inches, against an average of 39.51 inches.

Cloudy weather, with S.W. winds, and occasional rain is forecast for this morning by the Royal Observatory.

The passing of the recent typhoon has caused a considerable drop in the temperature. At 4 p.m. yesterday the temperature was 80, compared to 88 at the same time a week ago Saturday.

ITALIAN AIR ARMADA STARTS FOR CHICAGO.

Each ship has a crew of four and all the fliers have been in rigorous training for the last several weeks.

The itinerary is by way of Amsterdam, Londonderry, Ireland; Reykjavik, Iceland; Cartwright, Labrador; and Montreal, the World Fair at Chicago being the terminus. The return is planned by a more southerly route across the Atlantic.

Gen. Balbo, now 36 years old, two years ago led an armada of 10 planes across the South Atlantic to Brazil, the group requiring from Dec. 17, 1930 to the following January 6, to reach Natal, Brazil.

Two of the planes crashed at Balama, Portuguese Guinea, in West Africa, and five fliers were killed and three injured.

A life like a bunch of pugilists in strict training has been led for weeks by the 100 fliers, both men and machines being brought to the highest point of efficiency for the flight.

175 m.p.h. Speed

The model 10 Savoia-Marchetti planes embody several late improvements, over the planes used over Balbo's previous mass flight. Each is driven by two Isotta-Fraschini motors developing 1,600 horsepower and erected tandem over the single wing. The front motor drives a three-bladed propeller and the rear engine a two-bladed affair.

The maximum speed is 175 miles an hour. At the cruising rate of 150 miles each machine can carry 2,200 pounds more than 2,600 miles. Gen. Aldo Pellegrini is in technical command and Gen. Balbo is again acting as leader of the fleet. After completion of the flight to Chicago the squadron is to fly to New York, and then return by way of Newfoundland and Ireland. For the outward flight an emergency landing base has been prepared at Julianehaas, Greenland.

In each of the seaplanes there is a veteran of the Brazil flight and with him another pilot of long experience, and two in the crew. — Reuter and Associated Press.

This post has recently been vacated by his father-in-law, Dr. G. H. Lauder, who was Bishop of Victoria from 1911-1919.

ROOSEVELT REFUSES TO PEG DOLLAR

CURRENCIES WILL FIND THEIR TRUE LEVELS

FAVOURS AGREEMENT TO PREVENT VIOLENT FLUCTUATIONS

LONDON, YESTERDAY.

THE CURRENCY CRISIS AT THE WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE HAS NOT BEEN SOLVED. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT HAS REPLIED THAT THE UNITED STATES IS NOT YET PREPARED TO STABILISE THE DOLLAR, REITERATING HIS PREVIOUS STATEMENT THAT ALL CURRENCIES SHOULD BE ALLOWED TO FIND THEIR OWN TRUE LEVELS. THE ULTIMATUM PREPARED BY THE GOLD NATIONS, LED BY FRANCE, IS OF A MORE MODERATE TONE THAN WAS EXPECTED, MAINLY DUE TO BRITAIN'S MEDIATION ON THE MONETARY DISPUTE BETWEEN AMERICA AND EUROPE. — REUTER.

Campo Bello Island, Yesterday.

It is understood that President Roosevelt considers temporary stabilisation as a banking rather than a Governmental problem, and therefore outside the immediate realm of the World Economic Conference.

A later cable states that President Roosevelt replied thus to newspaper reporters when asked to comment on the reports from "high British quarters" in London: That President Roosevelt is understood to favour an agreement to prevent violent fluctuations in currency.

ROOSEVELT REPLY. GOLD COUNTRIES' RESOLUTION

Campo Bello Island, Later.

It is indicated that President Roosevelt regards the stabilisation issue as too complicated to be solved in a couple of days or weeks by the World Economic Conference.

Meanwhile, he considers that the fluctuation of the dollar will not prejudice domestic economy in the United States.

It is hinted as doubtful whether the countries at present on gold can remain there, and whether a permanent stabilisation should be attempted until all currencies are free to find their true levels.

It is understood that the President's views are regarded as definitely shelving stabilisation controversies, as far as the United States is concerned, until the World Economic Conference has accomplished other tasks.

It may be noted that the President does not express opposition to the informal co-operation of central banks to reduce fluctuations. — Reuter.

Fluctuations To Be Prevented.

MOLEY'S RECOMMENDATION TO ROOSEVELT.

New York, later.

Professor Moley has recommended Professor Roosevelt to approve the gold countries' formula, according to which the Central Banks will use their resources to prevent extreme fluctuations in world currencies.

It is believed that President Roosevelt will announce his approval to-day. — Reuter.

NO MEETINGS YESTERDAY.

The statement proposes therefore, that silver shall not be considered merely as a commodity as envisaged in the French proposals before the Economic Commission but that the whole silver question shall be handed over to the Monetary and Financial Commission. — Reuter.

CAPTAIN LAWRIE'S -DEATH

Former Commodore In Hong Kong.

INVALIDED HOME ON MAY 6

London, Yesterday.

The death has occurred of Captain E. M. W. Lawrie, former Commodore of naval establishments in Hong Kong. — Reuter.

Captain Edward McConnell Wyndham Lawrie, R.N., D.S.O., was born in 1882. He married Ethel Winifred, daughter of Commander James Evans, R.N., and had one son.

He served throughout the European War from 1914 to 1919 and was mentioned in despatches, receiving the D.S.O.

He formerly commanded the Destroyer Depot ship in the Mediterranean, and later H.M.S. Comus of the Second Cruiser Squadron.

From 1929 to 1931 he was Captain-in-Charge, Simonstown.

Captain Wyndham Lawrie arrived in Hong Kong on August 24, 1932, in command of the Cruiser Vindictive. On December 31, 1932, he was promoted Commodore on H.M.S. Tamar.

Owing to ill health, he was invalided home on May 6 last, by the P. and O. s.s. Ranchi.

C.P.S. ENGINEER DIES AT SEA

Officer On Empress
Of Asia.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY AT HAPPY VALLEY.

Mr. Percy Howarth, age 50, Engineer of the Canadian Pacific Steamships Ltd., died at sea on Friday morning at 8.30 on the "Empress of Asia" while en route from Manila to Hong Kong.

The ship arrived here yesterday morning, and the services were held in the afternoon.

At 4.30 p.m. the ship's orchestra played a funeral march from "Chopin" as the body was lowered from the ship to the launch "Vancouver."

The procession proceeded across the harbour to Happy Valley, where the funeral took place. The Rev. Waldegrave conducted the services. Messrs. Claxton, Ingles, Treloan, Staunton, Alexander, and Patterson, officers of the ship, were pallbearers.

The Canadian Pacific Steamships, Ltd., was represented at the funeral by the following local officials: Mr. L. E. N. Ryan, operating and accounts agent, Mr. A. M. Parker, passenger department agent, and Mr. E. Stone, general passenger agent for the Orient.

With a record of more than thirty years at sea, Mr. Howarth had many daring experiences on the west coast of Africa. During the last sixteen years he has been with the Canadian Pacific Steamships Ltd.

He is survived by his wife and five children who are residing in Vancouver, Canada.

THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFUL PEN AND PENCIL.

Now, you can buy truly modern writing instruments — the new Doric Eversharp. Neither round nor bulky, but slender and twelve-sided — they are a revolutionary advance in pen and pencil styling. They have the same graceful, clean-cut lines that distinguish modern architecture, modern motor cars and modern jewellery. And when the light catches their slim tapering sides, they flash with the shimmering brilliance of precious stones.

You will find these new multi-sided writing instruments lighter, and far more comfortable in the hand — much easier of grip — because they are better balanced.
